

The gargoyle mood board is rich in imagery, and the relief aspect adds depth and illusion.

"Century College's VCT curriculum provides an excellent foundation for future design. Instruction in the design elements, design process, and tools has equipped me to work with various media—whether that media involve graphics, web design, photography, video, or animation."

The fantastical image is a Photoshop composite of two photos. The first photo is of the Century College bridge, the second of the Century bridge walkway.

The complimentary color composition was created by cutting numerous pieces of red and green tonal variations from magazines.
